

I fear we are seeing the results of too much violence on television in the actions of our youth today. I'm not sure that it isn't already too late to correct this situation but at least it would be a step in the right direction.